

General Hospital Can Be Erected for $120,000, Dr. Bailey Tells Medico Club

Addition of 30 Rooms to Cottage State Is His Suggestion.

300 ROOMS IMPOSSIBLE

Such a Proposition, He Says, Would Involve Expense of Million Dollars at Outset; Training School For Nurses, Other Features Included.

A hospital of 300 beds in Connellsville, as was at one time suggested, is out of the question, Dr. William J. Bailey told members of the Yough Medico Socia. Club at a meeting Thursday evening at the home of Dr. Bailey in Isabella road, in a paper on "Hospital Needs and Possibilities in Connellsville." This, he declared, would mean a million dollar proposition to begin with. Instead, he said, addition of 30 beds to the present equipment at the Cottage State Hospital is a more feasible thing to consider. The cost of this he estimated at $120,000.

Dr. Bailey's paper was a comprehensive one, covering all phases of hospital needs in small towns, in which class Connellsville is placed. Next to hotels he pronounced hospitals the most useful utilities of a town or city. A good hospital, he said, is a good advertisement. A poorly equipped and inadequate one is a poor advertisement.

Among other things Dr. Bailey suggested the following:

A general hospital with private rooms, no wards, with rates within the reach of all.

Establishment of a training school for nurses.

Local administration, vested in the people and free from governmental or political influence.

Laboratory, anaesthesia and X-ray departments in charge of an all-time medical man.

Nursing and housekeeping to be supervised by a director of nurses.

In part Dr. Bailey said:

"You all know what a poor advertisement a poor hospital is to a town, and you can rest assured that a good one is a good advertisement, and a strange thing often happens, that a fellow who lands in a town with a poor hospital or none at all seems to cross your track and tells you about it where ever you meet him. What do you mean by a good hospital? Well it must be a general hospital. It should be of a size corresponding to the needs of the town in which it is situated."

"Well, as we live in an industrial center, according to our population we should have 44 beds. I feel that our community requires at least 30 beds in addition to the present equipment of our town. The stranger sick in our community must leave if his case be one for hospital care and he tells his friends about it, too. Scattered over the town are sick cases, medical cases, in need of hospital care. The physician knows this as no other man can know it but he must turn his back on this patient's plight only to dream again of the day when his community will wake up to the dire necessity of a place for the sick in our town."

"I have used the term modern hospital in this paper. There are two principles that have entered into the discussion and recent writings on hospital developments, efficiency and standardization. The first is accepted by every one. The second, also, is accepted as an efficiency hospital. Some standardization must be the rule. By a standardized hospital we mean one which will meet the requirements as laid down by the American College of Surgeons. This is a minimum standard."

"I have stated that a hospital in a small community should be looked upon by its residents of that community as their hospital. In other words, the management and directorship should be through a body of broadminded citizens selected by them. I believe from observation that institutions controlled and directed by the government, with all appointments made by political methods, meet with great indifference on the part of the public."

"Therefore, a system that would insure the active personal interest of every member of the community to be served by the ideal one. The local administration should be vested in the people of each hospital community. The board of managers should be men who consider it an honor to have the privilege of contributing to the welfare of the community, and these men will be the broadminded persons in the district. The hospital should be non-sectarian, non-political. Just a home for the sick of the community and one which every person in the district can speak of as 'our hospital.' In no other way can financial support be derived from the people. Those who do support a hospital in their community have established a post-graduate school for the medical men of that community. For even a small hospital with laboratory facilities becomes a teaching institution open to the physicians of the locality where they may keep up with the latest scientific work. Thus

"COPITEK" CLUB IS ORGANIZED BY HOME COLLEGE STUDENTS

Who Are in Attendance at University of Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech.

EDWIN KEAGY PRESIDENT

Miss Elizabeth Muir, Secretary; Object Is to Encourage High School Graduates to Pursue College Courses; May Adopt Colors of the C. H. S.

Special to The Courier.

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 13.—There is quite a representation of Connellsville students at the University of Pittsburgh and the Carnegie Institute of Technology. Tuesday evening of this week a number of them got together and formed the "Copitek" Club. The name is an abbreviated combination of the words Connellsville, Pitt, Tech. "One purpose of the club," said one of its promoters, "is to bring together more closely the Connellsville students at these two institutions. But that, however, is not the main purpose. It has long been our aim and ambition to have the folks at home know that the Connellsville students are by no means back numbers in the colleges and universities. In fact, a little investigation will show that they stand among the foremost everywhere."

"It is the intention of the 'Copitek' club to encourage more Connellsville young men and women to continue their education in some institution beyond the high school. To give those who are now contemplating this step an idea of what they will encounter when they take up the work and assist them beforehand in getting a better understanding of the college and university as a whole, is the large purpose of the club. We intend to get in personal touch with new students and the club as a whole and the individual members offer their services in this direction. With such an organization as we now have we believe that we can assist greatly in this work and better bring to the attention of young people the advantages the colleges and universities offer."

"The club is making an effort to secure the names of those students from Connellsville who intend to enter college. There are a great many things, such as financial matters relating to tuition, registration and living conditions, that fathers and mothers will probably be more interested in and we believe we can come to the point more clearly and quickly on these matters than the home guardians and booklets the schools issue."

"However, the club cannot accomplish its aim in Connellsville unless we have the cooperation and backing of the people at home. There are a number of similar organizations from other cities in both Pitt and Tech and we are working hard to place the Connellsville club among the first of these. Since practically every student at both schools is a graduate of the Connellsville High school it was suggested that the club adopt the colors, orange and black. This suggestion met with general approval and though it was held over for discussion at a later date I feel sure the colors will be selected."

"There are about 24 Connellsville students at the two schools, but due to the difficulty in securing their addresses we were not able to have them present at the first meeting. The meetings are being held in the Oakland Community House which is located midway between the schools and is convenient for all."

"C. Edwin Keagy was elected president and Miss Elizabeth Muir secretary. At the next meeting the officers of the club will be elected. The officers of the club will be elected. The officers of the club will be elected."

"To be eligible for membership the student must be officially registered in the University of Pittsburgh or the Carnegie Institute of Technology and must reside in Connellsville. We intend to keep the club going from year to year and as new students are added to join we feel it will only be a short time until the club will become an influential organization with a large membership."

"The members to date, are: A. Carnegie Institute of Technology, Sarah Esther West, Helen McKee, Deyce H. Miller and Earl Wishart, at University of Pittsburgh, Catharine V. J. Heine, Elizabeth Muir, Laura B. Heine, Howard Ruppert, C. Edwin Keagy, James Laughrey, Paul Intermore and Grant Clark."

Officers are: L. P. Smith, president; Rockwell Marlette and W. H. Solsen, vice-presidents; A. D. Soisson, H. Fry, Dunn, H. George May, E. C. Higdon, J. M. Gray, William Dunn and J. K. Dick, directors. E. K. Dick is also secretary and treasurer.

There will be a rehearsal of the "Legion Polles" this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Elks Home.

Pupils in Rural Schools Will Be Weighed by Red Cross and State Nurses

Systematic weighing and measuring of each pupil in the rural and township schools, of this end of the county, has been started by Miss Elizabeth Harper, Red Cross nurse, and Miss Mary B. Allen, state nurse. The schools being visited are South Connellsville, Dunbar, Leisenring No. 2, Vanderhill, Liberty, Leisenring No. 3, Kingsview and Everson.

Now scales were recently purchased by the Anti-Tuberculosis Society through the Women's Culture Club. The money for them was derived from the seed sale put on at the schools, the children selling the seeds.

The children will be weighed once each month throughout the remainder of the term and their weights and measurements will be recorded on large class room weight record charts. The students will be encouraged to gain in weight if they are not up to requirements.

Nutrition classes for children who are even per cent or more under weight in the plan of the nurses conducting the school work. There has been no date set for this phase, and it will probably not start until next term. In the meantime, however, through the chart records, it will be possible to trace the additional weight and when the classes are ultimately opened these in charge will be familiar with their subjects.

GENERAL HOSPITAL CAN BE ERECTED FOR $120,000.

They can better serve those who have been so stricken enough to place at their disposal a home hospital. It seems to me that an added feature to a town hospital would be to have a function as a public health center. This does not mean that it should have an organized social department but every hospital should have the social service idea, assisting out and bringing to the hospital those who need our services and following to the homes those who have been under our care. It should and could act as a disseminator of knowledge along the lines of prevention in disease and the promotion of health.

Hospitals, as a general rule, are built for two classes of patients, the rich and the poor. In other words, they have wards in which the poor can be treated and private rooms for the rich. But what has been provided for the intermediate class who feel they cannot afford to pay the usual charge for a private room and who are perfectly able to pay more than the usual ward charges and would willingly do this to have more privacy?

Therefore, I feel that in Conneltsville in addition to what we have at this time we should have a building to accommodate 40 beds each in a private room, a few could be semi-private or contain two beds. I know some people have bath attached and the price arranged accordingly. The modern idea is rooms, not ward, to take care of the middle class who by the way are in the majority. A hospital of this type could be used for medical or surgical cases, in connection with our present hospital which contains wards, X-ray equipment, laboratory, not in use, etc.

The complete institution would give us, without crowding, say 50 beds for each class of cases. The laboratory, X-ray department, ambulance department and social service department should be in charge of an all-time medical man. The nursing and housekeeping end is to be supervised by a directress of nurses. There should be established a training school for nurses under the direction of nurses. The directors should be chosen from the business men of the town who would not only feel that they were doing good by being asked to act but would get the best out of the hospital of the community by a yearly donation to said institution. The social service could extend its sphere as the proposition grows.

"Where and how could such a building as I speak of be placed in Conneltsville?" Well, it appears to me that an affiliation with the present Cottage State Hospital could be arranged. I believe, I presented to the board of trustees. It would require our engineers and also that the trustees of the Cottage State Hospital would endorse our suggestion.

"It would be out of the question for our community to purchase a land and try to finance a $120,000 building. This means a million dollar proposition to start with. Therefore, such line as I have suggested would, I believe, be of greater benefit to our town and the expense could in all probability be carried without being a burden to the community.

"Now the important question comes before us. How can we finance such a proposition, or rather to start with, what will it cost?"

"There are all sorts of buildings but I have spoken of a modern building, that is one of fire-proof construction, up-to-date plumbing, probably two stories high and 11 rooms, no wards. Let us look at some figures. The publisher wants the best, so let us look at what the best will cost. If we want private rooms, each with bath, up-to-date fixtures, modern plumbing and heating system, on will find that such a building will cost you $4,000 for each room. $120,000 in complete building, 12 very bath room, you drop in this construction mean $700 less. You can cut this in half and not have a modern building but a building with modern in construction is a source of expense as we have found out in our Cottage State Hospital.

THIN, FLAT HAIR GROWS LONG, THICK AND ABUNDANT

"Danderine" costs only 37 cents a bottle. One application ends all dandruff, stops itching and falling hair, and in a few moments, you have debbed the beauty of your hair. It will prevent a mare, so soft, lustrous and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant. Advertisement.

The Modern Mother

faces problems far beyond those of her forebears. She herself must be a much more competent person, combining in one individual the duties of mother, cook, teacher and social director. It is no wonder that many conscientious women break under the strain, and that others drag out a miserable existence, always tired and yet unable to take a day's vacation. Such women will find themselves benefited had here the modern mother's companion, which is made for the modern woman, and does not let her have time.

Reduction of 55 Per Cent in Iron Output During 1921

The iron production of the United States, both coke and anthracite, reached 16,493,400 tons in 1921, according to the Iron Trade Review. As compared with blast furnace activity in November, the final month of 1921 showed little improvement. Four more furnaces having been relit.

The 1921 production of the year was a loss of 19,902,568 tons compared with the output in 1920 of 36,400,968 tons, a reduction of 55 per cent. The production in the latter half of the year was 7,089,267 tons, as against 9,409,042 tons in the first half of 1921.

The total output of merchant pig iron during December was 358,374 tons, a gain of 67,739 tons over the 290,635 tons of the previous month. Steelworks of non-merchant furnaces produced 3,266,337 tons, which, compared with the 1,110,423 tons of the previous month was a gain of 116,914 tons.

On the last day of December, 124 blast furnaces were blowing, thus being a gain of four over the number active on November 30. During the month four merchant furnaces were blown in and none blown out, while three non-merchant furnaces were blown in and three blown out. Thus, the total net gain was four stacks. Of the total number of stacks active on December 31, 38 were merchant and 86 non-merchant. On the last day of the month, the United States Steel Corporation was operating 52 furnaces, the same as on the last day of November.

Petrified "Man" Discovered in Old Mine in Oklahoma

Waltch, Oklahoma, a coal mining town is excited over the finding of what is thought to be a petrified man. A piece of petrified substance, closely resembling the body of a man, was found in an old coal mine a few days ago.

The "man" is about six feet high and complete except for feet and hands. There is a well-developed skull and the body is symmetrical. The "body" was found in a coal formation, and near it were rocks with imprints thought to be tracks of a prehistoric animal. The find probably will be sent to the Smithsonian Institute for examination. Six years ago a wing and leg of a prehistoric creature was taken from the coal swamp.

The Effects of Opium.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the body which are likely to become permanent, causing feebleness, mental depression, a craving for alcohol or narcotics, a laxative life. Nervous diseases, such as intractable nervous (sympathetic) and all of these powers are a part of the body's work and opium is a powerful sedative. In their infants, the true among physicians is thus children should never receive opium in the smallest dose for more than a day at a time, and only then if it is really needed.

The action of opium, Drops, Cereals, Soothing Syrup and other narcotics on children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly urged, and if a doctor should not be a party to it, children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and if he is nothing less than a crime to dose them with narcotics.

Children of this age are susceptible if it bears the signature of Dr. W. H. H. H.

FRIDAY EVENING, JAN. 13, 1922.

THE WILL FOR INDUSTRIAL PEACE.

If, as seems both possible and probable, Secretary of Commerce Hoover will be instrumental in bringing the railroad brotherhoods and the railroad managers, the master builders and the building trade unions and the manufacturers and their employers together in such a temper and mood that by mutual concessions and an enlightened understanding of their obligations to each other and to the public a crisis over wages will be averted, he will be accomplishing one of the things most essential to paving the way for a period of unexampled prosperity. Incidentally such conferences, as a means of avoiding bitter contentions over the issues involved, will, next to the Irish peace, become conspicuous as additional evidence of the desire on part of people generally to manifest
the "will for peace."

It was a realization of the awful cost in life and treasure and sinful wastes of war that has created the universal demand for disarmament and other measures which will make war less probable. In corresponding proportion people have reached the conclusion that the loss and wastes incident to contentions between capital and labor are just as sinful and can be no less certainly avoided than in the case of contentions between nations. Public sentiment has, therefore, become so crystallized that the demand is being made that employers and employees meet together as reasonable men should do to thresh out their differences and come to reasonable conclusions and with due regard to the fact that the great point of 110-000,000 people have rights which are paramount to those of any selfish or group interest.

As the people have formed the determination that war should not again be permitted to drain the nation of its best young manhood and burden
both rich and poor with its appalling debt, just so have they made up their minds that a group or a combination of groups of employers or employees, should not so obstinately refuse to settle their differences over wages or hours of employment that a state of paralysis of business, industry or transportation would ensue.

Such a condition can be wholly avoided, and to the infinite good of the whole body politic, if the efforts Secretary Hoover is making in the interests of industrial peace receive the degree and kind of cooperation the public has the right to expect will be shown by the interested parties
to his conferences.

THEIR LAST CHANCE.

The freeing of Irish "political"
prisoners and the withdrawal of British troops from Ireland will do more to convince the people of that country that the "war" is really over than the ratification of the treaty on anything else that has preceded.

De Valera's malcontents and the professional Irish-American trouble-makers in the United States have virtually nothing left to do now, unless,
as a last chance to prove that they are as patriotic as they profess to be,
they turn in and give President Griffith every form of help they can to make New Year and all that they want,
and the world believes it will be.

Abstractly speaking President Willard may be right in saying that economic law is working a reduction in freight rates, but like other laws
it is traveling on a very slow schedule.

When National Commander Mac-Nider, General Peckham and other American Legion notables visit this section, they will miss much if they do not include the First City of Payette in their list of stopping places.

By diverting two-thirds of their contributions during the year to missions and benevolences the local Baptist brethren have shown that their conception of giving is to do more for others than for themselves.

The patient and long-suffering citizens who reside near the garbage
plant have at last made up their minds that the time for disarmament has come.

There's going to be several crowded sessions of police court if everybody who has a snow-covered pavement is brought before the mayor.

To the boy who received a new sled
Christmas was not so much of a failure as he had thought, thanks to the friendly cooperation between Santa Claus and the weatherman.

Chief "Tom" had better keep his weather eye open. "Everything" may be a quiet "all peace" clouded as brightly as they appear to be.

HARDING LIKELY TO
SEND AN OBSERVER
TO GENOA PARLEY

Politicians See No Reason to Change Nation's Policy
as to Economic Meet.

EUROPE MUST HELP SELF

By Settling Some of Her Own Questions and Putting Her House in Order Before United States Can Be Expected to Step in Wholeheartedly.

By Mark Sullivan.
National Political Correspondent of The Courier and the New York Post.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The Administration is now considering and will soon make a decision on the important point of whether America's representation at the coming Genoa conference on economic matters shall be that of an "observer" or full "participant."

The Administration's uniform policy about these European conferences in the past has been to limit our participation to that of an observer. The answer to the present question, therefore, must rest in turn on the answer to the question whether anything has happened to change our policy, and whether there is anything in the nature of the coming conference to cause
the United States to change its policy between now and the day in March when the conference is to meet.

At the present writing, but subject to change, the greater likelihood seems to be that the Administration's final conclusion will be that nothing has happened of such a nature as to justify it in changing its policy, and that this country should continue to limit its participation to that of an observer. There are, however, counter-arguments which are in the nature of large generosity, and it is possible the conclusion may be different. Something will depend on what is done at Cannes during the present week.
Something also may depend on certain eventualities still in the making here
at the armament conference in Washington.

It is not concern about collecting the money Europe owes us that makes us hesitate about participating in these conferences, although it is true that the government of the United States must take into account the state of popular feeling on this point.
But the real reason, and the much more enlightening reason, for our hesitation to participate directly in these European conferences is that there are some things in the direction of self-help which the nations of Europe must do for themselves, which we cannot help them do, but which must be done before we can be of any help in the way of international cooperation.

The first of these things is the rearrangement of the German reparations.
With that we have nothing to do.
We do not receive any of those reparations, and the rearrangement of them is the sole business of those nations which are the beneficiaries of them. This is the first step towards the economic stability of the world,
and it is Europe's business, not ours.

The second thing which the nations of Europe must do for themselves is to stop printing money. That is a thing which each nation can only do for itself. There is talk about a "biting exchange," but in the American view that is just like proposing to stop the printing of money. Change of exchange is merely the barometer of improper conduct about currency. As an incident of stopping the printing of paper money, it is necessary also for each nation to stop one of the greatest causes of currency inflation, namely, the keeping of large standing armies. We, on our part, have reduced our own army to a purely police band.

The American position up to the present has been that the European nations must do these things for themselves before we can become participants in any international conference looking to further measures in which we may properly cooperate.

As regards the money Europe owes us, there is a point in the American position which is commonly overlooked by Europe. The European nations seem to expect us to take the initiative before they make any proposition or proposal. In the absence of any formal declaration to us about it, it is rather disturbing to find France carrying the American debt on her books under the classification of "political debt," as distinguished from her other obligations, which she describes as "arrested debts."

Just about the time the Genoa conference is in session, our Senate will be in the midst of debate ratifying
the results of the Washington conference. It can readily be seen that our participation in the Genoa conference at that moment might be a complicating factor.

Against all this, there is the argument based on large-handed generality that we ought to step in wholeheartedly and help Europe out of its troubles. But for the present, the prevailing disposition is not to change our policy of limiting our part in these European conferences to that of an observer.

Rail-Water Route Favored.

Purchase manufacturers in Grand Rapids, Mich., are routing their furniture shipments via rail to Philadelphia,
and then by boat through the Panama Canal, because the rate is 10 cents a hundredweight cheaper than the direct all-rail route. The rate via Philadelphia is $3.75, compared with $4.20

Lloyd George Going Home.

CANNES, Jan. 13.—Prime Minister Lloyd George will leave Cannes for London this evening. He says, "I am glad to stop in France en route to consider for which French minister and with M. Poincaré, who is here, and with him to succeed the British ministry."

EUROPE'S CRYING NEEDS.

MISCE PLE

I stood upon the steps of the tallest building known.
And tried to walk that dangerous ledge,
but failed and fell.
I staggered very heavily, but I turned to look behind me.
And saw a dog on coming of the most frenzied kind.
To keep his feet, he moved on and I started
back to run.
And I slipped and lost my balance, and I knew that I was done.

I had a wild encounter with a mad and awful beast.
His eyes were bulging with malice, for he'd picked me out to be his dinner.
I tried to scream, but couldn't. Then he growled a fearful growl.
And gave me a spring toward me, and my bones were in a very bad way.
One gulp and he was gone, and I was much
the better for it.
But I know, beyond all question that I had gone for me.

I received from an airplane and landed and landed again.
And was very happy to find on my journey to the ground.
I brought a dozen dollars on my personal account.
And left as many five dollar bills snapping in two or so.
How much of it I have left I covered in mother's kitchen.

California Ideal Place, Former S. Connellsville Man Writes to a Friend

SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE, Jan. 13.—George W. Hartman of Pine Street received a letter from a friend, M. C. Weimer, a former resident of this place, who is now living on a ranch in California, describing some facts about California and the possibilities a man has to make good, through the natural resources of the state. Mr. Weimer, his wife and son went out West to live on account of Mr. Weimer's health, and was so delighted with his new home that he wrote to Mr. Hartman, telling him or any other person thinking of going West, not to hesitate to come. In part the letter says:

"We have 540 acres of land here, located in Kern county, within the boundaries of San Bernardino and Inyo counties, east and north, respectively. The Indian Wells Valley is the name of the valley, containing 196,000 acres or 30 miles long and 20 miles wide, almost level. Bunch grass furnishes the feed and in the spring is covered with a hundred or more varieties of flowers which scent the air like trailing arbutus. The altitude of the valley is from 2,100 to 2,300 feet, making the air clear and pure, and we are entirely surrounded by mountains. The Sierras on the west have gone in plenty and are covered with fine large pine and piñon trees, mesquite etc. We have always got one or two deer each fall. Rabbits we kill anytime, right on the ranch, when we need them, also plenty of wild duck hunting, quail and on the river side there are Snowshoe rabbits and plenty of wolf or coyotes and bear.

"We are 180 miles north of Los Angeles, which has a good road, making it a nice drive which takes you through the Southern Pass out of the valley which is the Red Rock Canyon, which the government has been talking about making it a reserve or a national park. I don't suppose you would realize what colored hills are or would look like, but it is impossible for me to describe them.

"George, for one to step out in the evening when the sun is setting gives you that feeling of awe, with the sun ever changing colors and seems never the same. When you go to bed at night it is to sleep and rest for the nights are never hot or warm, just cool and equitable, with the morning bringing sunshine. We have never had a day as yet, since we have been here that the sun has not shined. It gets cloudy but not for any length of time. Our worst weather condition is wind, which is not strong but bothersome at times and a little cold in the winters. The summers are warm, with the thermometer ranging around 100 to 110; which back there would kill almost everyone with a sunstroke, but here, with the altitude and dry air, it doesn't seem so hot as it would back there. Never knew of anyone to have a sunstroke here, and we work in the sun, too. Have about three inches of rain here annually, usually starting to rain in January and ending in February, after which the flowers and grass come out in great numbers and quantity. Everything is grown here by irrigation, which leaves you master of your own rainfall. The alfalfa gives me cuttings each year, making a ton and a half per acre, each cutting. Figure it out and see where the greatest place in the world is for you.

"Now, George, that is rural life here. Now, the cities are wonderful and always vastly different from an eastern city. Los Angeles is wonderful, beautiful, and the residence section is lined with all kinds of fine trees and beautiful shrubbery. Work at the present time is better in Los Angeles than anywhere in the United States. There are factories of all kinds, rubber, glass, iron, cement, oil, chemicals. Distance out here is great. One will ride out 10 miles and say that he was just across the road. We go nine miles to the postoffice and my boy goes nine miles to school every day. We have a bus or stage that takes them. Run down to Los Angeles just as freely as you think of going to Dawson or some place like that.

Public Is Amazed at Continued Enormous Demand for Tanlac

People All Over America Want to Know What Is Behind the Phenomenal Success of This Preparation That Makes It the World's Greatest Tonic.

Day after day the question is being asked all over the United States and Canada: What is the reason for the phenomenal success of Tanlac? Why do we hear so much about it? And why do Tanlac sales keep increasing every year, when other medicines seem to have a short-lived popularity and are then forgotten?

The answer is simple enough. The test of time has proven to people all over the American continent that Tanlac always produces most gratifying results and that the remarkable relief it brings seems to be more permanent than ever before believed possible.

Tens of thousands of persons, everywhere who took it when it was first introduced six years ago, report that they are still enjoying excellent health and vitality of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after first trying it out thoroughly and proclaiming it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, signs of them of long standing, as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse have testified publicly that they have been fully restored to their normal health, strength and weight by its use.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, but who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour gassy stomach, coated tongue, foulness of breath, constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and terribly tired, depressed feelings, state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by taking Tanlac. Tanlac has never been advertised as a cure-all or that it would perform unheard-of wonders. The advertising has been clean, straightforward and conservative. Actual facts and figures have been stated and stated in a true, business-like way that has commanded the confidence of all in the conservative claims set forth.

The enormous demand for Tanlac is due to merit alone, for no amount of advertising would continue to sell any article that does not possess real merit. Unless full value underlies the article advertised, the advertising will ultimately fail of its own weight. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Tanlac has been well advertised, it is true, but such a large and rapidly growing demand could not be brought about by advertising alone. It is what the people themselves say that counts. One bottle of Tanlac is sold in a neighborhood through advertising, but ten more are sold in that same community as a result of the sale of that first bottle and that is why Tanlac has succeeded. People are always willing to talk about their ailments, but they are more than glad to tell others of the medicine that helped them. It is something they can't keep to themselves if they tried, for the impulse to sympathize with your fellowman and want to help him is one of the strongest, as well as one of the biggest, things in human nature.

This is the reason why the people of every section of the United States and Canada have come to speak of Tanlac as the World's Greatest Tonic. And that is the reason why the demand for this remarkable medicine has grown to such proportions that it is almost impossible to keep the dealers supplied.

Tanlac is sold in Connellsville by the Connellsville Drug Co., and by the leading druggists everywhere. Advertisement.

planned by Carlisle, known to the world as the "Wizard of the Air," but in reality his inventions have been made by a "crazed" inventor living in a lonely hut in the sand dunes. This inventor provides "self-inflicted gasoline" for the flight. Carlisle's daughter, Marion, is unceremoniously at her father's disposal of Neeka, a girl of the North Woods, not realizing that Neeka is her real sister and the daughter of Carlisle. Otto Kraus, owner of the rival plane, the K-12, makes an effort to steal the formula. He accepts a position as butler in the Carlisle mansion and there tricks Neeka into securing the formula. When Neeka realizes that she has turned traitor to her real father, she follows Kraus in another plane. A thrilling battle in mid-air follows, in which Neeka is saved by a parachute drop. The finale of the story is laid "on the other side of the world" at the gates of a Japanese village.

Uniontown Crescents Lose To Caseys; Local Quintet Easily Outplays Visitors

The Casey Club outplayed the Uniontown Crescents in the first game of a series of three last night winning by a score of 22-16. The contest was on the local hall floor. It was the first important victory of the Casey outfit this season and might indicate that at last the K. of C. men have struck their stride.

The Uniontown tossers got only three field goals in the entire contest. All of these were scored in the first half. In the first half the visitors scored seven points, all from the free line. Brock caught seven of his 10 attempts. The half ended with a 9-7 score in favor of the Casey team.

There was more scoring on both sides in the latter periods. The Casey, caged four from the floor and Uniontown players secured three.

The score.

Caseys—22. Uniontown—16.

W. Pritchard F. Everhart
Tomney G. Bantz
Danner G. Lanz
Buttermore G. Brock

Substitutions—Andrew for Lanz.

Bantz 2, Brock 1, Pritchard 1.
Foul goals—Frolic 10 out of 13.
Henry 9 out of 17, Pritchard 1 out of 2.

Referee—Houshorgor.

The Casey outfit has the edge on the three game series to be played with the Crescents. The next game will be played in Uniontown but the locals will be able to meet a revival and will be on an even footing with the crummy seaters.

The Unity Fraternity basketball team held a practice game with the American Legion last night on the Casey floor at South Connellsville. The "Prat" quintet will play the Capstan team there next Tuesday evening.

Georges Carpenter retained the title of heavyweight champion of Europe last night when he knocked out George Cook the Australian champion in the fourth round of their scheduled 20-round scrap at London. Cook was winner of the first two rounds getting the better of Georges in the infighting. After that, the Frenchman refused to trade blows and fought at long range. In the fourth he slipped his left across to the chin and brought over his right with a crash. Cook went to the canvas. His efforts to arise were of no avail although he did get up not long after he was counted out and seemingly was little the worse for the battle.

SEMI-FINAL BOUT MAY BE SIGNED TODAY

Boxmaker Duke Barry of the Fayette Athletic Club has high hopes of clinching the semi-final contest to the Johnny Ray-Johnny Donnelly bout, sometime today. Barry is after Battling Sherbine of Jeannette, to make with Gus Camp of Pittsburgh. Should these two fast middle weighters sign their signatures to a set of contracts it will mean that the local club will present a double star at action on next Wednesday night at Slavish Hall.

Sherbine is one of the leading boxers of his pondage in this end of the state. The Battler has met Harry Greb three times and always gave the light-heavyweight champion a stiff session. Last spring at Jeannette Sherbine knocked Red Saunders of Altoona in four rounds. Since that time he has failed to get anyone to meet him. Camp it will be recalled defeated Jack Perry's brother at the local club late last winter. He made a great impression with local followers at the time by his fighting.

In view of the fact that Mayor Obrios C. Mitchell will be at the ring side to censor the contests, fans are assured that the boxers engaged will put forth their best efforts. His Honor is by no means opposed to boxing if properly conducted. Incidentally the chief executive is a great admirer of Johnny Ray who is to meet Donnelly in the main bout of 10 rounds.

With the tickets selling rapidly the club officials point out to those who are late in coming, the greatest satisfaction offered in this section to get their seats in advance as it is a foregone conclusion that many seats will be disposed of long before the doors open next Wednesday night.

COKERS PLAY LEAGUE GAME HERE TONIGHT

The Connellsville High School basketball team will play the Turle Creek aggregation here tonight in a game under the W. P. L. A. League schedule. The Union High of Turle Creek has always been a hard team to defeat, although not the strongest outfit which is to be played by the locals.

The Cokers are playing their third league game tonight and it will determine whether the Orange and Black team will go up or down in standing. At present the locals have a percentage of 500. Scottsdale and Norwin are both tied for the bottom position with 1000. Scottsdale plays Latrobe tonight and North Braddock goes to Lewis for a game with Norwin High. Tomorrow night the high school will meet Crafton. The Crafton outfit will be in charge of J. P. Rupp, physical director here last year. Rupp's coming is looked forward to with interest by local followers of the sport. Coach Wint teaches the same style of play started here by Lupp and when the two outfits clash it will probably bring together teams with the same methods of offense and defense. It will be a game worth seeing.

PLAY PRACTICE GAMES

Capstan, Legion and Unity Fraternity. Lives keeping fit.

SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE Jan. 13. The Capstan basketball team held its last practice last evening before its game with the West Side Princeton on the West Side at the Slavish Hall. There were eight players, out, and after a light practice the American Legion team had the floor. The Legion played a practice game with the Unity Fraternity basketball team.

He is as humane as any coach living, but finds that a far flung reserve line enables him to get better work out of his men. Wilce also is one of the mildest speaking coaches in the business. He never uses profanity himself and will not tolerate it from any of his players. It is said of Wilce that he never told Chick Barley he was even a fair player until the great Buckeye halfback had turned in his uniform for the last time. But he gets results.

ALL AMERICA THEORY IS AN IMPOSSIBILITY

Football Has Been Growing by Leaps and Bounds.

No Man in This Progressive Age Can See Enough Players and Games to Warrant the Selection of Eleven Best Men

There was a time when football experts took a hard look at the Harvard-Yale-Princeton lineup and then went home with the feeling that they were well qualified to pick their All American teams. No other games mattered, no other players counted. All America on the gridiron in those days—not a generation ago—was bounded by Cambridge, Massachusetts, New Haven, Connecticut and Princeton, New Jersey. So far as football was concerned, State College, Pennsylvania, Danville, Kentucky, Berkeley, California, and Atlanta, Georgia, might just as well have been trading points in the Hudson Bay territory.

When Walter Camp originated the All America team in 1888, three from Texas and three from Harvard and one from Yale were picked. In 1900 a Pennsylvania man crept into the list. In 1904 Cornell gained representation on the All America. When in 1897 Hirschbarger of Chicago and in 1898 Seneca of the Carlisle Indians won places in the all star combination there was a great ado. Football was growing by leaps and bounds, the experts proclaimed.

It did grow by leaps and bounds. It has kept growing by leaps and bounds, and it promises to keep on growing in just that way. For now in the East has made it a difficult task to select an All East eleven. Remarkable banding in the South and on the Pacific coast has made the All America team an impossible thing. With the Middle West and the North scoring over the East in the East with the Pacific coast winning over the East in the Middle West with the Missouri valley grown to great football stature and the Southwest clamoring for recognition no man can pick the best of all players in a single season. So enough games and enough players to warrant his naming an All America team. Were he able to, he could not crowd his stars into an eleven.

The All America eleven has gone the way here knickerbockers and London prize ring rules went in pugilism the way of the trim clipper and

ECONOMY WAVE FELT IN ARMY

Soldiers More Careful in Regard to Equipment.

CULTIVATE THRIFT HABIT

Reduced Appropriations Force Army to Apply Economies All Along the Line—Doughboys Compelled to Keep Strict Watch on Their Shoes—Savings Also Being Effected in Clothing—Days of War-Time Spending Are Over

The time was when, in popular fancy, no good soldier ever looked at his heels. That belief, fostered by countless jokes, is due to be rudely shattered when the doughboys of the present army after their last money, according to officials of the war department. The good soldier of the present day is giving careful attention to not only his shoes, heels and soles but to every item of his equipment, they declare—and all because of the wave of economy that has swept over the military arm of the service.

In its effort to live within the reduced appropriations granted by the present congress the army has been forced to apply economies all along the line, and the thrift habit is being impressed on the rank and file in a manner calculated to leave an abiding impression.

More Care for Shoes.

Some saving soul suggested that the item of shoes was one that might be easily subjected to a little pruning. The doughboys were scuffing out their sole leather at a rate that threatened to prove ruinous to the army, and it was suggested that the man behind the gun be made personally responsible for the state of his foot wear. The suggestion was adopted and as translated to the rank and file it runs about as follows:

Private will see that their shoes are in good order—that they are turned in for replacement at the first sign of a hole in the outer layer of leather. And they will make this shoe inspection every day on penalty of having to pay themselves for any replacements where the old shoe turned in to the quartermaster's department is too greatly worn to permit its repair.

Savings on Clothing.

In the matter of clothing, too, the war department is effecting savings, wherever possible. When a private or "doughboy" takes his best girl to the movies he is clad in his Sunday best, the suit he wears only at inspection and when on pass. In his other waking hours he is uniformed in khaki that has seen better days but still is serviceable for drill and camp routine. Careful inspections of salvaged clothing are made by the inspector general to the end that no uniform be scrapped while there yet is a minimum of service in it.

Economies in Clothing However are merely straws to show how the wind is blowing in the army. The effort to make congress dollars go as far as possible is apparent all along the line and even the rawest of recruits is aware that thrift is regarded as a cardinal virtue in the army.

No Sightseeing Tours

That is impressed on him as soon as he enlists for where it once was possible to join the colors in one part of the country and be assigned to duty with some remote organization getting a splendid opportunity to see America first at the expense of the war department, things work out quite differently now. Recruits are assigned to organizations nearest the stations where they enlist and the day of free sightseeing tours are over, War department officials assert.

This transportation taboo is fast becoming all-inclusive, according to army officers. In times past when a regiment was transferred to another post, the transfer was accompanied by entertaining the men and their impedimenta and setting them down in their new home, bag and baggage. Under the new scheme of things the transfer of a regiment involves no such expenditure of time and money. Only the color of the outfit to be transferred are sent on to the new post, the men being assigned to some other organization near by.

Special Instance Cited

An instance of this is to be found in the recent transfer of the 10th infantry regiment from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. The colors of the 10th were sent to San Francisco—and by boat instead of train to save expense—the men of the old 10th were transferred to the 20th infantry regiment, near by and the new regiment on the Pacific coast was filled by members of the 32d infantry, who had been put on the inactive list at the Presidio. Even the colonel of the 10th infantry became the commander of the "transferred" 10th.

When transfers of units are to be made at lesser distances they are accomplished by hiking. The men should have their full impost of equipment, the accompanying baggage trains are loaded, the command to march is given and the outfit is on its way to its new post.

Ban on Individual Transfers

Another evidence of the army's effort to cut its cost of expenses according to the cloth appropriated is to be found in a new sentence that is being added to the general order of the chief of staff. That sentence reads: "No expense will be incurred by the government in connection with the change herein directed." Interpreted by officials of the War department, it means that no individual transfers are being made except at the expense of the individual involved.

Indeed army travel has been reduced to a minimum even on official business. Where an officer is sent from any department on an inspection trip he is charged with the performance of any duties in connection with the trip that may come in his way. He is not to be paid for his travel and the travel expenses of his men thereby are saved.

JERUSALEM FELL TO COOK HUNTING AN EGG

Mayor Hands Over Keys of City After Turks Had Fled in Night.

The story of the great Palestine egg hunt was told by Maj. Vivian Gilbert of London in an address at the Brooklyn M. C. A. recently.

Major Gilbert was a member of the Allenby expedition which fought its way into Palestine in 1917.

On the morning of December 9, 1917, the major said, an orderly, who had been sent to a small village which was held for eggs, missed his way. He returned to report, in great perplexity that a cove, surrounded by a crowd, had given him some keys and made a speech when he asked for eggs.

The "cove" was the mayor of Jerusalem who deserted by the Turks who left the city the night before and presuming the English forces to be descending on the city had surrendered by handing over the keys of the city to the first man he saw in British uniform.

The brigadier general was informed, the major continued, and going into Jerusalem formally accepted the keys. But the division general decided that he was the fit person to capture Jerusalem and ordered the brigadier to return the keys. A few hours later the former accompanied by a gorgeous retinue accepted the keys from the mayor for the third time.

Put when the division general sent a telegram to General Allenby the latter replied that he would take the city and he did so two days later.

The poor mayor died two weeks afterward—it was said that he contracted pneumonia from so much running around Jerusalem.

The Modern population was greatly mortified by the incident of the egg hunt, he added.

CINDER BLOCKS USED IN CONSTRUCTION OF HOUSE

Under blocks the invention of Frank Cordery of New York are being used in the construction of a $100,000 residence in New Rochelle, New York. The blocks made from ordinary cinders and chemicals are from thirty to thirty-five per cent cheaper than ordinary brick or tile. They are non-conductors of heat and cold and have many other features not possessed by the ordinary brick. The press for the making of the cinder blocks is set up on the site of the building under construction. The blocks are turned out and are ready for use twenty-four hours after molding. The New Rochelle house, the first to be built of the new cinder blocks will be two and one-half stories high and contain eighteen rooms.

The picture shows Frank Cordery, the inventor, driving a wall into one of the cinder blocks. Wood panels are attached directly to the wall in this manner.

"TOO MUCH LIVING"

Large Amount of Food Consumed Each Year by Average American

Excessive eating may play a prominent part in the high cost of living, Secretary of Labor Davis has intimated in making a report showing that the average American eats more than a ton of food a year.

The average person eats 2,000 pounds of food a year. A working man lives on 1,775 pounds a year, according to the report. The American soldier during the World War lived on that amount.

The average Japanese consumes 107 pounds of food a year, says Secretary Davis. The average Japanese adult gets only 70 pounds of food as against 250 pounds the average for us.

AMERICAN INDIANS MAY LEAVE

Osage Tribes Contemplate Settling in Mexico to Live as They Please

More than 10,000 American Indians are contemplating emigrating to a city in northern Mexico. The Indians are the Osage tribe who have become wealthy through the discovery of oil on their lands.

It is not the oil that is attracting them to the new land, says Chief Washbrook. We have plenty of money and our old land will be a fine place for us. But it is not a land that makes happiness. We wish to go where we can live as we want to live, where we can farm and raise a strong, healthy child.

that half the money spent on advertising is wasted.

That probably was true six years ago.

It certainly is not true now.

To the Audit Bureau of Circulation is due much of the credit for the difference.

Six Years Ago space was bought by guess-work. Now it is bought with a definite knowledge of circulation—how many copies are printed, how they are distributed, how many paid for and how many given away.

UNEARTHED OLD BATTLE FIELD

Plow Turns Evidence of Early Indian Battle in Canada

What is believed to be an Indian battle field was discovered by a plowman on his farm in the north line of Quebec. In the plowman's field were found the bones of a man and a woman. The bones were found in a field that was plowed for the first time in many years.

Until now, plowing some new ground when the plow is caught in the handle of a plow, the plowman has been told to turn the handle of the plow around and to pull it back. In the field, the plowman was told to pull it forward.

During operations there were a number of Indian skeletons were unearthed all lying in a line around the battle. Another battle was dug up later. Several tomahawks and a lot of arrowheads were found.

Many several hunters visited the field. It is believed the remains of the warriors have been lying in their graves for many years.

BEST WAY TO CLEANSE SILKS

Fabrics Should Be Scrubbed With Brush Instead of Rubbing Between Hands or on Board

The best way to clean silk is to wash it in lukewarm water with a good soap. Instead of rubbing between the hands or on a board, put the fabric on a board and rub it with a brush. It will not damage the fabric.

The present fashion in silk is a combination of this and that. It is a combination of the old and the new. It is a combination of the best of both worlds. It is a combination of the best of both worlds.

Price for Spot Furnace Becomes Stiffer With an Absorption of the Stocks

No Transactions for Regular Grades Reported at Less Than $3.25.

WILAKENING IN CONTRACT

But $3.25, the Average of First Quarter Business, Still Holds as Quotable Figure: Spot Foundry Perks Up; Now Harder to Buy at $3.75.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—The spot furnace coke market has undergone a further stiffening in the past week, and the price range is now quite high. The stiffening is not due to any increase in demand nor to any ease in the cost of production, but is plainly attributable to the gradual absorption of the stocks that were pressing on the market, stocks that were small in volume, as tonnage ordinarily go, but which had an effect on prices when the market had so very little absorbing power. For a couple of months just there has been scarcely any buying of spot coke by blast furnaces, and the coke had to be peddled out a carload at a time to the miscellaneous buyers.

There have been transactions in spot furnace coke in the past week at $3 and at higher prices, possibly up as far as $3.25, which is the firm asking price of some operators who are making coke. It is one thing for an operator to have an asking price and be doing nothing, and quite a different thing to have an asking price and be actually disposing of coke.

There have been some sales at less than $3.00, of coke that might be classed as furnace coke, but the quality at best is doubtful, this being proved by the fact that really good heating coke is bringing $2.75, very indifferent coke going at $2.50. In no case has there been a sale of a regular furnace lot at less than $3.00 and it is not entirely certain that furnace lots could be picked up in any volume at $3.00. A furnace lot means, say, 10 carloads, as that would be less than enough to run a full-sized blast furnace one day.

While the spot furnace coke market has been stiffening, the contract market has been weakening. For the last contract reported was at $3.10, this being a relatively small tonnage for an eastern contract, over the first three months of the year. Until recently the contract market was quotable at $3.25 to $3.50, the latter figure being the price operators set out to get but which they did get in only one or two cases. Then $3.25 was shaded to $3.20, in close competition, and now it has been shaded 10 cents more. However, this does not set the pace for the next transaction, as even the operators most anxious to sell would not go to $3.25, and $3.27 is approximately the average price that has been done on first quarter contracts, so that the desire seems to be for a quotation as the regular contract market.

With spot coke stiffening and contract coke softening the two are close together, just as they ought to be. It is only abnormal or stabilized conditions that put them far apart, and the market is now more or less aligned. It would not be unusual for spot coke sometimes to be a 10 or 20 cent contract coke instead of being as now a shade below.

Spot foundry coke has been showing a slight stiffening also. There is still foundry coke to be had at $3.75, but it is harder to find than formerly, and there is not much of it, so that a little more buying the market now being quite dull, would probably whip it out. Transactions are now commonly at $4.00 or $4.25, with occasional sales at $4.50. The average of all transactions in a week would be between $4.00 and $4.25. The market is now quotable as follows:

Spot furnace $3.00 to $3.25
Contract furnace $3.25
Spot foundry $4.00 to $4.50

The Pittsburgh district coal market continues very quiet. Demand in general is very light and most of the demand is going to competitive territory, where costs have been adjusted, while the Pittsburgh district is hung up on the United Mine Workers wage scale. Nothing definite has developed as to how negotiations for the new wage period will occur, now that the central competitive field has gone to pieces. John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, has been urging the Illinois operators, who are willing to remain in the five-state arrangement, to try to pull the pieces together again, but the Illinois operators have been unwilling to take any action, presumably because they feel that by Pittsburgh and Ohio operators are firm in their recent decision not to participate in any joint negotiation. While the conference that was to be held

Sloan's Liniment (Faints Enemy)

January 6 and had to be called off was for the purpose of making arrangements for debates on a new scale for the period beginning April 1, there is now a thought in some quarters that some developments as to wages at the union mines may occur before then.

The pig iron market has been quite inactive since Christmas. In the first part of December there was a little movement in boundary iron, in small lots for January shipment, and the market is now quieter again, with expectations that activity may be resumed by the end of the month. In pig iron nothing at all has occurred. In December iron there is an event, the sale of 1,500 tons. The $20. Valer price that became the quotable market about August 1 has lately been recognized as nominal. It being expected that an actual purchase could be made at less, and in keeping with the expectation the 1,500 tons went at $19.50, which is now the quotable price, making the market stand as follows:

December $19.50
Boundary $19.50
These prices are for iron by furnace, freight to Pittsburgh being $1.50

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This tea always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared and after another application it becomes a beautifully dark and glossy and lustrous. Loss in Output And Value of Iron Ore Mined in 1921

The iron ore mined in the United States in 1921, exclusive of that which contained more than 55 per cent of manganese, is estimated by the United States Geological Survey at 25,547,000 gross tons, a decrease of 56 per cent as compared with the output in 1920. The shipments of ore from the mines in 1921 are estimated at 23,909,000 gross tons, valued at $9,688,000, a decrease in quantity of 61 per cent and in value of nearly 95 per cent as compared with the shipment in 1920.

The average value of the ore per gross ton at the mines for the whole United States in 1921 is estimated at $3.22, in 1920 it was $4.11. The stocks of iron ore at the mines, mainly in Michigan and Minnesota, apparently increased from 11,378,791 gross tons in 1920 to 13,575,000 tons in 1921, or 22 per cent. The output of iron ore in 1921 was the lowest since 1904, when 27,844,330 tons was mined.

About 86 per cent of the iron ore mined and shipped in 1921 came from the Lake Superior district, in which 23,940,000 gross tons was mined and 23,155,000 tons was shipped, decreases of about 56 to 61 per cent, respectively, as compared with the quantities mined and shipped in 1920. The ore in 1921 was valued at $81,091,000, a decrease of about 68 per cent.
